

HOW DO YOU BENCH

Verity creates workspaces that welcome interactions, enhancing the workflow for teams. It's easy to share at the bench, minimizing the need to relocate for meetings.

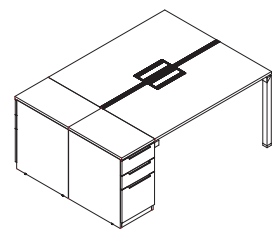

A well-balanced open office environment also recognizes the individual's needs, particularly the element of privacy. Create visual privacy with screens available in fabric, glass and markerboard or add in space-dividing storage.

As teams grow and change, Verity can be reconfigured or expand to support new dynamics. Create a happy and productive workspace with Verity benching.

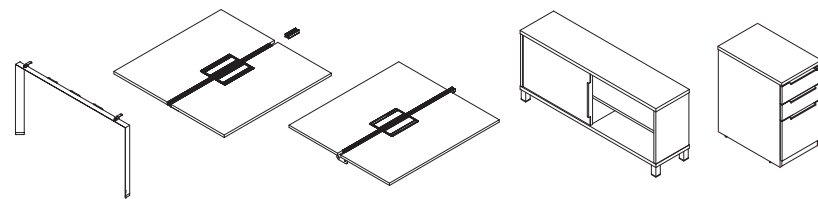

Under the Surface
Everyone loves a wire-free workspace. Stay connected by running power and data discreetly under the surface for full connectivity and a seamless look.

Verity captures the modern workplace — connecting with others while maintaining the valuable balance of privacy and openness.

Stand-Alone Units

Save time with Verity Stand-Alone units, which are pre-configured stations — just add accessories and storage.

Elements, for building your own

For full customization choose Verity Elements, allowing selection of each support, surface and more including storage and accessories.

